Introducing the class of '83

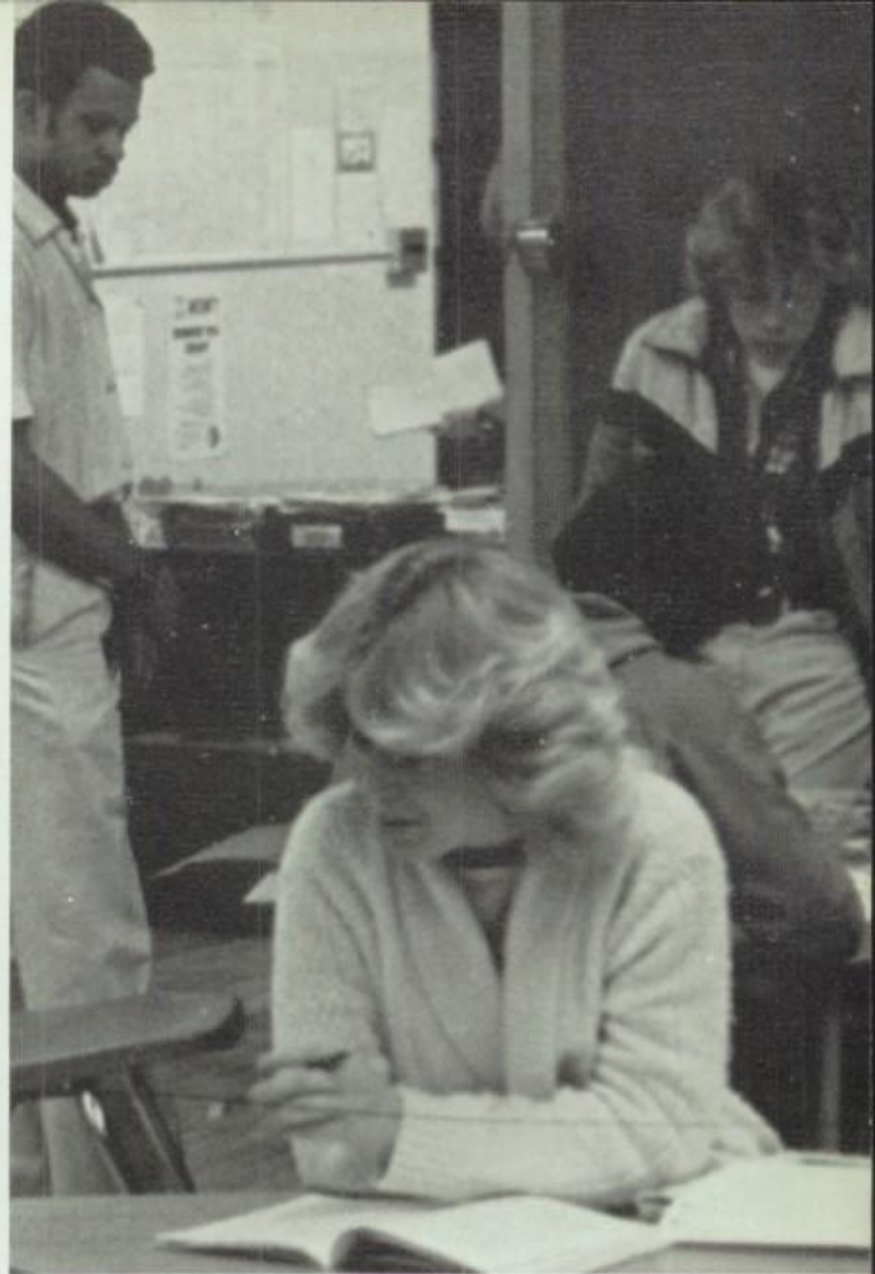

Susie Mettler, president; Doug Campbell, vice-president; Monica Wozniak, secretary; Manuel Black, treasurer.

Middle left Gina Johnson shows how helpful a sophomore can be by giving a few pointers to freshman Brenda McGee.

Bottom left Crystal Sharp and Cynthia Stallworth seem pleased with the progress they're making on a careers assignment.

are to the dead."

—Aristotle

So live a little.

A Toledo based, multinational, three billion-dollar manufacturer of packaging materials in glass, plastic, paper and metal as well as a dynamic variety of non-packaging items for diversified markets, takes this opportunity to express support for education and for the young men and women who will make tomorrow just a little bit better than today.

International news

Boycotting of the Summer Olympics

Just before school opened in September, 1980, President Jimmy Carter ordered American athletes to boycott the 1980 Summer Olympics held in Moscow, as a protest against the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan. The decision caused much controversy. Those who sided with the President were quick to point out that boycotting would focus international attention on the Afghanistan crisis, and put pressure on the Soviet Union to withdraw their troops. They also hoped that Soviet citizens would realize the seriousness of their government's actions.

Those who disagreed with the President stated that it was unfair to put the burden on the shoulders of American athletes, who had worked hard for months, even years, preparing themselves for the games. One of our own teachers Mr. Greg Wojciechowski, a member of the Olympic wrestling team, missed his opportunity to compete in the Olympics. Virtually all the American athletes conformed with President Carter's request.

The Iranian Crisis

On January 20, 1981, the country celebrated the return of the American hostages held in Iran. Approximately 14 months prior to this date, dissident Iranians stormed the U.S. embassy and took these Americans hostage, thus violating the sacrosanct principle which forbids an attack on a foreign embassy. The Iranians claimed that the United States provided protection for the former Shah, who has committed gross injustices against the Iranian people.

President Carter diligently worked for the safe return of the hostages. One rescue mission failed and eight Americans were killed in this aborted attempt. Word of the release of the hostages came approximately 15 minutes after the inauguration of President Reagan. Americans gave the hostages a warm welcome upon returning. Millions wore yellow ribbons, and tied them around everything imaginable, as a sign of American concern.

Polish Workers Strike

Polish workers demanded that the Communist government recognize the existence of free trade unions, and bargain in good faith with their official representatives. The workers demonstrated their solidarity via a strike. Many fear that if demands continue, the Soviets could retaliate by invading Poland. The situation there remains volatile.

National News

1980 Election

Ronald Reagan won the 1980 presidential election by a landslide. In fact, N.B.C., in a controversial move, projected Reagan a winner before the polls even closed in some Western states. Republicans gained control of the Senate for the first time in years, causing analysts to note that the mood of the country is swinging toward conservatism. Toledo followed the trend. Long time Democratic Congressman Thomas Ludlow Ashley was defeated by Ed Webber for a seat in the House of Representatives.

Bailing out of Chrysler

The United States government, in hopes of saving the jobs of thousands of Americans, agreed to bail out the Chrysler Corporation from certain bankruptcy. Loans given to Chrysler were insured by the federal government, but only before company officials and employees agreed to certain concessions, including wages freezes. This decision caused much controversy.

Import restrictions?

The American automobile industry reported record losses at the end of 1980, and prospects for improvement seem dim in light of high unemployment, high interest rates, and inflation. To make matters worse, Americans are buying imported vehicles at ever increasing rates. In 1980 one out of five cars sold in this country was imported. For the first time ever, Japan produced and sold more cars worldwide than did the United States. The automobile industry is asking the government to put restrictions on imports. This is causing much controversy.

Local News

School Closings

Because of decreasing enrollments, and as an effort to save money the Toledo Board of Education voted to close several schools. The switch to a junior high system was also completed. This move caused much public debate. Most people agreed that it made economic sense to close some schools, but no one wanted that school to be his neighborhood school. Despite the protests, school opened smoothly this past fall. Voters even approved a new school tax levy in the November election.

Owens-Illinois

Work is continuing on the new Owen-Illinois building downtown which is to be that company's world headquarters. This project is considered vital if the downtown revitalization plan is to work.

Sports News

Baseball

The Philadelphia Phillies beat the Kansas City Royals in the 1980 World Series.
George Brett of the Kansas City Royals was voted the American League Player of the year.
Mike Schmitt of the Philadelphia Phillies was voted the National League Player of the year.

Football

The Oakland Raiders trounced the Philadelphia Eagles in the 1981 Superbowl.
Brian Sipe of the Cleveland Browns was voted the National Football League's Player of the Year.
Georgia slipped by Notre Dame in the Sugar Bowl to win the national championship.
Michigan edged Washington in the Rose Bowl.
Oklahoma beat Florida State in the Orange Bowl.
Alabama creamed Baylor in the Cotton Bowl.
Penn State defeated Ohio State in the Fiesta Bowl.
George Rodgers, a running back from South Carolina, won the Heisman Trophy for the most valuable collegiate football player.

In Memoriam to Robert Walker

Afterglow
I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one.

I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when life is done.

I'd like to leave an echo
whispering softly down the ways
Of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days.

I'd like the tears of those who grieve
to dry before the sun of happy memories that I leave.

When life is done.
